Welcome to UPRLC, Inc. membership!

UPRLC By-Laws. Article II. 2.2 VOTING. The chief executive officer (or, if none, the governing body) of each member library shall designate one individual to exercise its right to vote on corporate matters at any annual or special meeting. If a member fails to name an individual to exercise its right to vote, then that member shall automatically cease to be a member of the corporation until such time as an individual is designated and the Board of Trustees re-admits such member. Such designation and any change in designated person shall be reported to the Secretary of the corporation, who shall compile the list of members eligible to vote fourteen (14) days prior to the date set for the annual meeting.

Please designate a voting member to represent your institution at the Annual Meeting and at special meetings. Our ability to serve your institution depends on hearing your voice through your representative. The person you appoint will serve until a new representative is appointed by your institution's CEO or governing board.
