Just why WOULD a library want to belong to the UPRLC?

1. Annual Meeting with continuing education program and vendors—also a great opportunity to network with your library colleagues. Nonmembers pay a higher registration fee.
2. Group discounts on books, audio-visual materials, and supplies. Find vendors and discounts on this web site: <http://joomla.uproc.lib.mi.us/slc/>. Set up your account with the discount rate prior to placing your first order.
3. Research Upper Peninsula history at a web site maintained by Superiorland Library Cooperative and UPRLC staff at www.uphistory.org. Please check out the Bay Mills Community College collection of Native American artifacts. Those images have some of the most “hits” from researchers in the collection.
4. UPRLC members are welcome to sign up for the Superiorland Library Cooperative group discussion list. This is an informational email list with news about national, state, and regional libraries. To sign up, please call the number above and ask for the group list serv manager.

If you have questions, please call Pam Malmsten, UPRLC Treasurer, at (906) 228-7697, Ext. 111.
